

Kevin Goldberg

Co-Founder, Business Development and Product Manager

SynerTrack

Kevin obtained a BESC in Civil and Environmental Engineering from Western University and a certificate in Leadership and Innovation from Ivey Business School. Kevin's work experience includes multiple software start-up ventures and was mentored in an established software company servicing the consumer goods industry. With his understanding of software development, interest in innovation and his environmental competencies in regulation, Kevin helped drive the successful development and implementation of SoilFLO, SynerTrack's comprehensive, excess soil tracking automation software